ERTEL is a trio of musicians who met in Los Angeles in 2010.

Abbe Ertel Magid hails from Chicago; she wails hard core, sings softly and has jokes for days. The party, in short, does not stop.

Greg Camphire is a Pennsylvania kid; he plays drums and percussion with influences that range far and wide. He brings together an eclectic mix of beats so strong they might take hold of your heartstrings.

Matt Bridges was raised in Texas; he strums a mean guitar and programs majestic noises through a laptop computer. But don't be fooled, he can get real soulful real fast.

File them under rock n' roll and all of its relatives: blues, soul, R&B, punk, drum n' bass, dubstep and whatever else you hear.

Thanks for listening and enjoy!
